

SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION SOCIETY MEMBERSHIP

At the Soil and Water Conservation Society (SWCS), our mission is to foster the science and art of natural resource conservation and environmental management, through a combination of research, education and advocacy. Our goal is to improve the practices and capabilities of environmental managers as well as enhancing conservationist's professionalism. With membership in the SWCS you have the opportunity to provide your expertise and knowledge towards enhancing the society's natural resource conservation goals.

SWCS is a non-profit scientific and educational organization. The Society serves as an advocate for the conservation profession and for science-based conservation policy. It is the grassroots efforts of its nearly 10,000 members in over 80 chapters, who help carry out the Society's mission. By becoming a member of the New Mexico Chapter, you also become a member of the International Soil and Water Conservation Society.

Your support can make a difference! It's individuals like yourself that make our important work possible.

Membership benefits include:

1. Interaction and education through local chapter membership in U.S. and Canada.
2. Opportunities to network with professionals from many disciplines through local, regional, and international meetings.
3. Effective representation in policy circles on conservation issues.
4. Automatic subscription to the publications Journal of Soil and Water Conservation and the online newsletter Conservogram
5. Discounts on books and conference or workshop registration fees.
6. Chapter membership in U.S. or Canada.
